Incorporation Fund Needs Met By Lemon Grove CofC

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce underwrote $68 needed by the L.G. Committee for Incorporation to bring its fund to $800.

$800 is the amount the County Board of Supervisors required to be deposited for advertising the hearings and election before the supervisors could take the next step.

The next step, according to Frank Armstrong, chairman of the Incorporation Committee, is to make the deposit on Thursday so that the matter can be heard the following Tuesday by the supervisors. An election in October is seen by proponents.

Some of the recent contributors to the Incorporation Fund include:

L.G. Paint & Body, $5; E. H. Anderson, $10; Dr. S. Brumbaugh, $25; J. Dail, $10; Dial Drug, $10; L. G. Florists, $15; L. G. Radiator, $10 Smitty's Station, $10.76; Thomas Disposal, $40, and Pampered Pet, $10.

Also Molly's Station, $5; Russell's Plumbing, $15; C. Hesser, $10; M. Feldman, $5; R. Sutton, $10; Lion raffle, $13, Palmer Svalstad, $22 and Village Liquor, $10.

Meanwhile, more groups had asked to be excluded from the proposed city and at least one of these was in central Lemon Grove. Armstrong said exclusions could not be allowed by law because it would create an island. An island may not be created unless it has more than one square mile of area. Petitions requesting exclusion represent approximately 700 persons with most of these being at the northwest and northeast fringes. The city would cover about five square miles and would have a population of about 30,000, Armstrong said.

This week the jackpot is $400 and the contest will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the lemon in the plaza.

As in weeks past, the winner must be present but the contest will continue until a winner is found.

To be eligible, contestants may acquire coupons from local merchants with Appreciation Days signs in their store or their shop windows.

Hot Runoff Seen In Supervisor's Race

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Unofficial results of Tuesday's election showed that the see-saw battle for the supervisor's post in the 2nd Supervisorial District assures a red-hot battle between incumbent Supervisor David W. Bird and his major opponent, Henry Boney, when the two face each other in a sudden-death count-off in November.

Boney topped Bird slightly in Tuesday's race, racking up 33,778 to Supervisor Bird's 33,094. Also in the race but polling only token votes were R. Christianson and H. Snodgrass.

In the 77th Assembly District, John Dail of Lemon Grove, a Democrat, easily outdistanced his opponent Glenn Wade. Incumbent Assemblyman Donovan, a Republican got 20,115 votes. Dail got 16,282.

Danny Thomas (17,648) was embattled with Dick Wilson (23,502) for the Republican nomination to see who would face Democratic U.S. Representative Lionel Van Deerlin of the 37th Congressional District in November. Wilson, who will make the race was beaten by Van Deerlin two years ago. Van Deerlin, (50,832) meanwhile had no difficulty with his opponent A. J. Mastriani (5,376).

In the 76th Assembly District, Republican Assemblyman Clair W. Burgener will race against Thomas Ruth.

In the 78th , Republican Assemblyman Richard Barnes will face Robert Coates.

In the 79th Assembly District, Incumbent James Mills, a Democrat, will face Raymond Roberts.

In the 80th, Assemblyman Hale Ashcraft will face George Hood as his Democratic opponent.

In other supervisorial races Frank Gibson made it in the primary. So did Robert Dent. They will not have to contest for their job in November because each got more votes than all of their opponents combined.

L.G. CofC To Hire New Manager

A goodly sized rumble seemed on its way Tuesday at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce regular board meeting but President Forrest Baxter put the blaze down and from the smoke and heat came a motion for the executive committee to exercise its own good judgment in acquiring a paid employe for the chamber.

Board Member Bob Howell charged that the chamber's financial troubles stemmed from hiring employes when the bank account balance got above $1,000. The balance currently is about $1,500. Vice President Don Johns reared back and took on all opponents to having paid chamber employes by reminding that a handful of business people spend almost as much time each day on chamber business as they do on their own business. Most of the open meeting was devoted to this issue and from the smoldering coals came a motion to allow the executive committee to come to its own decision.

In other action the board decided to hold a general membership meeting one evening a month and accepted with gratitude a check for $5 from Mrs. Forrest Baxter, the result of the sale of 10 lemon pies left over from the 68 baked for the Antique Car Parade presentation recently.

The pies were baked by women belonging to local service clubs. The showing time of the film was listed erroneously in the last issue of this newspaper. TV station program director Burke Orsmby said earlier today that Sunday at 7 the program will go on the air.

NEW SUBSCRIBER LIST GIVES CHILDREN AID

The new circulation drive started by this newspaper is beginning to bear fruit for Angels Unaware, the East County Day Center for Retarded Children.

Part of the income from each subscription will be donated to Angels Unaware for playground equipment at their center in El Cajon.

Retarded children from Spring Valley and Lemon Grove, who are not eligible for public school training, are given needed training there.

Ed Boyd, manager of the new reader campaign said that local residents are very receptive to the idea of giving aid to the day center.

Almost two years ago a similar campaign was mounted and it produced about 800 new subscribers for this newspaper and several hundred dollars for Angels Unaware.

A report as to the amount of money handed the center will be made from time to time as the donation is turned over to them. Contributions will range from $2.50 down to 10c, depending on whether the subscriber is in the new, renewal or direct category.

The subscription to the newspaper is $3.50 a year and the paper is sent every week by mail.

The larger amount is given the retarded children's group when a present reader gets a neighbor to subscribe.

Present subscribers may aid the cause by calling this publication at HO 9-0101 and inquiring whether his neighbor is presently a subscriber.

Lighting Petition Passers Wanted

Twelve residents are needed in the San Altos area to circulate petitions for forming a street lighting district, Jack Cummings said this week.

Cummings, chairman of the lighting district committee for the L. G. Chamber of Commerce, said that the petitions are ready for signatures and if they can be completed by July 1, street lights will be turned on in San Altos by November 1.

If the schedule listed here is not met, there will be a wait of 12 months before the district can be formed, he said.

The district is bounded roughly by Imperial ave on the east and Madera on the west; 69th st. on the south and beyond San Pasqual on the north.

The cost of the power to illuminate the street will be charged to property owners. There is no cost for installing the lights.

The charge added to the county tax bill each year, will depend on the assessed valuation of the home. The County Assessor uses 25% of the actual value for the assessed value. A home with an assessed valuation of $3,000 would be charged $6.61 a year for the lights. A home assessed at $3,800 would be charged $7.84 a year, Cummings said. Veteran's exemption would reduce the cost.

The petitions must be signed by the number of residents owning property representing 60% or more of the total assessed valuation of the district.

Volunteers, so urgently needed may take part by calling Cummings at the L.G. Bank of America 294-2260.

Trustees Oppose Four Districts, Favor 1 District

After a discussion of the proposal for four unified districts which has been approved by the Augmented County Committee on School District Organization, the Governing Board of the Grossmont Union High School District authorized a written presentation re-stating its support for one unified district.

The action was based upon the new legislation declaring the intents of the legislature to create unified districts, that these districts be formed on high school district boundaries as a minimum, and that deviations from this be considered for approval by the State Board only in exceptional circumstances.

It was pointed out that the new legislation provides financial incentives for unification as well as penalties for not joining in a unification proposal. Districts will be required to vote on unification every two years until it is accomplished.

Superintendent Lewis F. Smith said, "One unified district more adequately provides for the educational opportunity of all children throughout the area and does this in the most economical use of funds."

The formation of unifed districts is no longer a question of whether we unify but a question of when and how. The legislation still leaves the final decision on unification in the hands of the local electorate. Smith indicated that, while other forms of unification might have value, the proposal for one unified district is superior and more nearly meets State Board regulations and the intent of the legislature.

Incorporation Petitioners Did Fine Job In Making Election Possible

After it was learned that Spring Valley failed to get enough names on petitions to call an election on incorporation, proponents for incorporation in Lemon Grove developed the queasy feeling that they might not be successful either. The petitions had to stand the test of sufficiency of names and the signers had to own enough land to equal 25% of the total assessed valuation of the proposed city.

It came pretty close to being a wash-out in Lemon Grove too, because the names were sufficient with only two to spare.

The proponents of incorporation are several. It would be unfair to try to mention all of them here because of a certainty, a few of the hardest workers would be left out. But to all who worked so diligently, and energetically, we want to offer this salute.

These workers did the job without pay. They circulated the petitions without funds. They paid incidental expenses out of their own pockets.

Now there is going to be an election in Lemon Grove. People will have the opportunity of self-determination as far as local government is concerned. Whether or not the issue is passed is not so important as the fact that those who wanted to vote on it will be able to do so in the finest American tradition — by a petition to the people.

The three who have been the titular heads of the project giving many hours to it are Attorney Frank Armstrong and his wife, and Ray Brehm, a Lemon Grove realtor.

The petitions were the product of property owners but the election will be decided by registered voters, regardless of whether they own property or not.

Candidates for council will be the most popular residents

"HOLY SPIRIT"

It had been a great experience for the disciples to walk with Jesus and to have Him by their side. The coming of the Holy Spirit into a person's heart and life brings a relationship which is even more intimate. Through the spirit's indwelling, Christ abides right in our hearts at all times.

Girl Scout Chatter

By Mary Giacinto

The Junior Girl Scouts of troop 805 under Mary Huber combined their court of Awards meeting, which is their final meeting for the season, with a delightful pot-luck for the girls and their parents. It's just too bad that you couldn't all have enjoyed the humorous skit "Haven't Got a Barrel of Money" which starred Susan Colliers and Vickie Jeffries. Their ingenious costumes and presentation merited them a well earned badge. Troop 805 planned the whole event by themselves. How can Lemon Grove help but be proud of their industrious young girls like that!

Junior Girl Scout troop 235 earned, as a group, their health aid badge. They also held their farewell meeting for the season last week at their Court of Awards meeting. The girls baked their own cupcakes and had an entertaining program for their parents and leaders. The goodies were beautiful. If they are an indication, our girl scouts will become wonderful cooks. That is good!

STATE OF READINESS

By Carol Baker

This is a time of readiness — the countdown is zero, and we are ready for performance. Perhaps no one better than our astronauts have taught us so timely a lesson. This is an age of swiftness, and the times belong to the strong, who can go into action at a moment's notice. Much like the trapeze artist poised between sky and earth, we have become ready to meet the challenges of daily living. We have trained ourselves, conditioned our minds and our hands to action when the situation demands it.

Take building — anyone concerned with any phase of building, whether apartment house, commercial building, homes — or paving a supermarket lot, or home driveway, — knows the value of a state of readiness; — timing is an important factor in building. That's why the Pre-Mixed Concrete Company, or H. G. Fenton Material Company, of 702 W. Washington, in San Diego, offers prompt service in pre-mixed concrete — uniformly mixed to specification, getting you ready for a first-class job on your patio, driveway, or fence. Call 298-8824 for speedy, convenient delivery of pre-mixed concrete, rock, sand and cement, — and be in a state of readiness!

THE ROADRUNNERS

By Joan Taylor

New Mexico has no monopoly on the roadrunner. Today Americans have become roadrunners — migrating from state to state, and the majority of them planting their roots in the state of California. The appeal of sunlight and outdoor living by the blue waters, is bringing to San Diego — a new population — roadrunners in pursuit of the good life. We welcome the Country Squire from the Middlewest, and the Executive from the East; because of them we are developing a greater city for better living.

And roadrunners we have right here on the homefront in the form of your paving contractors, — who make it possible for you and I to communicate and live comfortably in a spatial, larger environment, for San Diego is boundless — growing in all directions. That is why the B & J Excavating, of 4455 Twain, in San Diego, your reputable, dependable, state licensed Engineering Contractors, specialists in grading, asphalt paving and excavating — are the mapmakers of San Diego — making the roads, streets and driveways of a greater city in motion extending communication to all who enjoy western living where California began. 'New' Van Deerlin Tells Men's Club Of Nation's Plans

By Max Goodwin

It was the regular meeting of the Lemon Grove Men's Club but it seemed more like a revival meeting for the Democratic Party with U. S. Representative Lionel Van Deerlin catching the spotlight.

Van Deerlin, suave and self-confident, in Lemon Grove Friday to meet his constituents and to make a speech at the L.G. Men's Club, met with nearly a dozen people in the office of this newspaper, mending fences as good as any Congressman knows he should, before appearing at noon at the Men's Club. There, he made a brief statement of condition of Van Deerlin and the Party, acknowledging individually nearly everyone in the audience (which included the ladies for this meeting) and proceeded to field questions of the audience with dexterity and knowledge from a crowd overflowing with friendliness. It was a far different Van Deerlin than the one sent to Congress a couple of years ago. He presented the picture of a man who had done his homework.

Van Deerlin revealed that he had been partly responsible for a $237 million contract now being awarded to Astro for 13 more middle stage, hydrogen fired Centaur missles. He said Astro's personnel will be increased rather than decreased as was anticipated prior to this.

He said that he had scheduled a forum for small business specialists and with large contractors in the NASA program for June 9 at the Sands Hotel. San Diego's economy will benefit from the forum, he said, because of the large amount of sub-contractors (20 or more employees) which have been hard-hit by the changing missle program.

The Administration's war on poverty program is getting his support to include youth, perhaps with a CCC-type program to absorb youthful energies, he explained.

Something is in the offing on the war in Viet Nam, Van Deerlin said. He had recently served on a committee that provided impetus to a decision to provide $125 million in additional funds last week for additional material for war.

He said there was a definite plan for increasing the work load at the Naval Air Station in San Diego which will compensate for loss of work at the Repair Base. He said the Administration will settle for half a loaf on Medicare with a $30 deductible program and a Republican sponsored amendment which permits workers to go under a private plan rather than under Social Security.

The program this week will be Monroe Levens, Rabbi of Tifereth Israel Temple who is a highly regarded wit and philosopher.

The Men's Club meets on Friday's at noon at Horse Shoe Tavern.

One of the panelists suggested that graduation from high school be a prerequisite for obtaining a driver's license.

The panel agreed that the "automobile is a primary cause of pupils leaving before finishing high school".

Boys Profit From Clubs Says U.S.C.

San Diego's Three Boys' Clubs are serving more boy members than any other of the clubs in California and are second in membership for all west of the Mississippi, according to figures released recently by the national office in New York.

The local clubs serve 5,196 boy members, according to Joe Jacobs, executive director for the three. Enrolled at the Clairemont club, are 2,220 boys; at Linda Vista, 1,807 and at William J. Oakes, 1,169.

Other clubs over San Diego County are "substantially above the national average" in membership for the size of their communities. They are all member agencies of United Community Services.

"Dues are only one dollar a year, and every boy is encouraged to join," Jacobs said. "A major source of the clubs' operating money comes from United Community Services — dollars contributed by our citizens each fall and which work the year round.
